Last summer a fruit grower who owns 40 acres of orchard was repelling in one of these precipitations of moisture, when one of his hired men entered the house.

"Why don't you stay in out of the rain?" inquired the fruit grower.

"Oh, that's all right," replied the man. "A little dew like that doesn't bother me a bit. I can work right along just the same."

"That isn't the point," exclaimed the rancher. "Next time it rains, you come into the house. I want that water on the land."—From Youths' Companion.

CHINESE SMUGGLERS MUST GO TO JAIL

Judge Maxey Sentences Men to Leavenworth; Damage Case in Federal Court.

Eighteen months in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., was the sentence meted out to Mar Been Kee and Kee Kim Yok, by Judge Maxey, in the federal court Saturday morning, following their conviction Wednesday on the charge of conspiring to bring into the United States, Chinese laborers not lawfully entitled to enter or remain in the country. Charlie Soo, also convicted on a conspiracy charge, received a sentence of 15 months in the penitentiary.

Victor H. Tobin, C. E. Crawford and Isaac Blum, Jr., who pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiring to smuggle Chinese laborers into the United States, were sentenced to serve seven months in the county jail.

The taking of evidence in the case of Lillian Heath against the El Paso Electric railway company, a suit for $30,000 damages for alleged personal injuries, was completed Saturday morning at 11:30 and the arguments by attorneys began. Three hours will be consumed in arguing the case. The plaintiff at the last term of court was given a verdict for $25,000, but the verdict was set aside and a new trial ordered.

Friday afternoon Feindio Rodriguez was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail on a charge of smuggling. The case of the United States against the Sharp Elliott company was passed until the next term. Civil cases will be the order of business at next week's session.

PETRIFIED WOOD FROM SIERRA BLANCA DISTRICT

That the whole country around Sierra Blanca was once populated with immense forests of cedar, is believed to be a fact from large pieces of petrified cedar that have been found underground near that place. One of these pieces of wood was sent to Chas. Leavelle, of El Paso, and has been placed on exhibition at the chamber of commerce. This piece has a diameter of about a foot and a half.

WHERE EVERY DROP COUNTS.

In the Yakima valley, Washington, where the big apples are grown and bearing orchards sell at $1000 an acre, rain is scarce. Irrigation is practiced everywhere. But now and then during the growing season a light rain will fall for a few minutes. Those rains are highly prized, for irrigating water is measured closely, and served to each user in proportion to his acreage.

Last summer a fruit grower who owns 40 acres of orchard was repelling in one of these precipitations of moisture, when one of his hired men entered the house.
